Jen, from LP:

Store 850 and 219 are ok. They are comfortable with the levels.

Jason,
Can you please have your LP department look into the ordering habits of the two stores below? We have seen a huge jump in Oxycodone purchases from both. Please see the detail for each store:

- 1) CVS 850 – I spoke to Nick at this pharmacy. He stated there was a pain clinic down the road which is causing scripts to increase significantly. Here are a couple of examples of increases:
 - a. Oxycodone 15mg 100 – Oct, 30 units; Nov, 60 units; Dec, 35 units; Jan, 165 units
 - b. Oxycodone 30mg 100 – Oct, 40 units; Nov, 70 units; Dec, 90 units; Jan, 205 units
- 2) CVS 219 – I spoke to Nick at the pharmacy. He stated that there are an increasing number of patients from pain clinics, but they are only filling for local clinics. Please see examples:
 - a. Oxycodone 30mg 100 – Jan, 160 units; Dec, 320 units;
 - b. Oxycodone 30mg 100 IR – Jan, 480 units; Dec, 640 units; 520 units; 680 units

Thank you for any guidance you can give us on the continued increases we are seeing for this class of drugs!
